Techcomp to distribute Horiba Jobin Yvon's Fluorescence product range in China

- Estimated market potential of US$5-6 million in P.R. China
- Techcomp to be China's No. 1 distributor in the Fluorescence product range

Singapore – 14 March 2007 – SGX Main board-listed Techcomp Holdings Ltd ("Techcomp", "天美控股" or the "Group"), China's leading distributor and manufacturer for highly advanced scientific and medical equipment, has entered into an agreement with Horiba Jobin Yvon Incorporated to distribute and service Horiba's Fluorescence product range in China.

Techcomp and Horiba will begin their distribution and service partnership in March 2007, for their Fluorescence product range which includes the Fluoromax family, the Fluorolog (the most sensitive spectrofluorometer in the world), both TCSPC and phase lifetime applications and the Nanolog (specialized for nanotube research).

Mr. Richard Lo, President and CEO of Techcomp commented, "Horiba is the market leader in this particular product range and they will leverage on our extensive distribution and after-sales service presence in China. We believe that together with Horiba and Hitachi's complementary products, Techcomp will be the market leader in the Fluorescence product in China"

According to Strategic Directions International Inc., the leading source for information in the analytical and life-sciences industry, the estimated fluorescence worldwide market is worth US$150 million in 2006. China will account for a market of US$5-6 million per year.

Mr. Lo added," With our established distribution network, we hope to meet China's demand for this product over the next few years."
